ART OFFICIAL MEDIA LLC

Media and Art
from an Urban Perspective

Experience Urban Excellence.

Art Official Media specializes in urban books and art related media. We publish e-books, books, paperbacks, audio, films and magazines that illustrate media and art from an urban perspective. In addition to publishing, we handle the distribution for independent book publishers, self published authors, independent record labels and film companies that tailor to an urban market.

Art Official Media has partnered with the premier media entertainment wholesale provider to distribute e-books, books, CDs and films for the market.

We distribute our published titles through the same wholesaler that supplies all major studios and 90% of the independent book stores, record stores, and film outlets.

All independent products are sold over the website and are marketed offline by in house publicity department through press releases and marketing campaigns of partner sites. We have also partnered with additional websites and freelance publishing services to offer a host of quality, cost-effective website design, website promotion, typesetting, book cover design and distribution service.
